

COLLABORATIVE LEADERSHIP: Building Jobsite Leaders

This three-day program offered by the UBC is designed to give jobsite supervisors the tools necessary to improve the overall jobsite, taking it from good to great. This calls for collaborative-based leadership, and the creation of a partnership culture — one that can harness the knowledge and expertise of all stakeholders.

The collaborative leadership approach recognizes that leadership is greatest in a collective team. By encouraging equal participation across all levels, a collaborative leader allows solutions to develop from the best ideas of the group, and takes a team approach to problem-solving.

Who is eligible?

The Collaborative Leadership program is open to Foremen Level employees and higher who have interaction with the field/jobsite, including but not limited to foremen, general foremen, safety managers, project managers, estimators, superintendents, owners and more. Participants may nominate themselves, or be recommended for the program by Council Business Representatives or staff. Participants DO NOT need to be union members.

Collaborative Leadership program dates for 2019:

- January 14-16
 - May 20-22
 - June 10-12
 - July 15-17
 - October 7-9
 - October 21-23
 - December 2-4
- (20 participants each)

To learn more about this program,
go to <https://vimeo.com/128025882>

Program Overview

- Discussion with UBC General President a/o District Vice President
- DISC: Understanding Your Management Style
- Generational Differences
- Recognizing Your Strengths
- Deep & Impactful Relationships Across Different Sectors
- Powerful Collaborative and Partnership Skills
- Enhanced Communication Skills
- Tools to Address Leadership Challenges
- Entrepreneurship: Branding Yourself
- Back Home Action Plan
- Guest Speaker

Participants stay at the UBC's International Training Center in Las Vegas, Nev., for three intensive days of training. The cost of the training, as well as the flight and accommodations, are paid for by the Carpenters International Training Fund. If you accept entry into the program but choose not to attend at the last minute, or are somehow removed from the program, you are required to repay all expenses paid on your behalf.

If you are interested in participating in the UBC Collaborative Leadership program, or know someone who would be a good candidate, fill out a nomination form at www.northcountrycarpenter.org/collaborativeleadershipapplication/

